

ENGLISH MINOR

ENGLISH MINOR REQUIREMENTS (21 CREDIT HOURS)

- ENGL 200: Introduction to the Study of Literature & Culture
- One 200-level ENGL course on a pre-1800 topic
Choose from:
 - ENGL 202: Medieval Literature & Culture
 - ENGL 204: Renaissance Literature & Culture
 - ENGL 206: Enlightenment Literature & Culture
 - ENGL 209: Early British Literature & Culture
 - ENGL 216: Legends of King Arthur
 - ENGL 218: Introduction to Shakespeare
- One 200-level ENGL course on a post-1800 topic
Choose from:
 - ENGL 207: Romantic Literature & Culture
 - ENGL 208: Victorian Literature & Culture
 - ENGL 210: British Literature 1800-Present
 - ENGL 211: Intro to Modern African Literature
 - ENGL 213: Modernist Literature & Culture
 - ENGL 241: Modern Poetry
 - ENGL 242: Contemporary Poetry
 - ENGL 247: The British Novel
 - ENGL 250: Nineteenth-Century American Fiction
 - ENGL 251: The Twentieth-Century American Novel
 - ENGL 253: Topics in Literature & New Media
 - ENGL 256: Survey of American Lit II
 - ENGL 259: Early African American Literature & Culture
 - ENGL 260: Modern African American Literature & Culture
 - ENGL 270: American Film Genres
 - ENGL 272: Minority Images in American Film
 - ENGL 273: American Cinema 1950-2000
 - ENGL 275: American Indian & Indigenous Film
 - ENGL 276: Asian Film Genres
 - ENGL 285: Postcolonial Literature in English
 - ENGL 286: Asian American Literature
- ENGL 301: Introduction to Critical Theory
- 6 additional hours of advanced (300- or 400-level) coursework in ENGL
ENGL _____
ENGL _____
- Any other 3-hour ENGL, CW, or BTW course of your choice

To declare the English minor, please visit the English advising office.

In addition to these pre-approved options, you may find that courses with variable topics, such as Women Writers (ENGL 280) or Topics in Literature & Culture (ENGL 261) satisfy one of these requirements in a given semester. Please consult with an English department advisor regarding any course you're planning to use that isn't on this list, so we can confirm that it will count.

It would be wise to take ENGL 301 before you take any additional advanced-level ENGL courses.

This elective option can be satisfied by any ENGL, CW, or BTW course not being used elsewhere in the minor, but you will need to meet with an English department advisor once you have taken the class so we can fill out the paperwork necessary to make it show up in the correct place in your audit.